It was an effort to motivate students to come forward and donate for this noble cause. Our College has been religiously organizing blood donation camps every year. Students and the faculty members come forward voluntarily to donate blood. While addressing the students at the camp our Program In-Charge Prof. Arpita Bhatt brought awareness to them about shortage of blood and why we must donate blood every year, to help the persons requiring blood. Blood donation can save lives of innumerable persons. Donation of blood is very critical and crucial for saving the lives of many patients and those who have met with accidents.

REFLECTION

REIMAGINING ALTERNATIVE URBAN SPACES

Architects have a new social role to play to improve neglected urban spaces. Through creative ideas, innovative architecture can transform abandoned public spaces and re-imagine new "Alternative spaces" to create a vibrant community spirit. We find several small urban spaces, which are neglected, polluted, garbage dumps, without maintenance, pathways, etc.

We often turn a blind-eye to these dis-used public spaces around us.

In reality these spaces have tremendous potential to inspire community interaction, after they are transformed.

Can Schools of Architecture create a positive social impact on these derelict urban spaces, by redesigning alternative spaces to have a larger social impact and to rebuild and improve them with small interventions ?

Video orientation : <https://youtu.be/uW43VJ8-xlg>

OBJECTIVES:

- To identify an abandoned public space in your city that has the potential to be a vibrant urban social space. It is essential to mention why the specific public space was chosen, its original condition and the transformed design. The entry should also indicate the social purpose of the "Alternative space" designed.

- To evolve a design for "Alternative spaces" that transforms the abandoned public space.
- To engage in a real life hands-on construction program at the chosen site and transform the place. The challenge will be to keep the budgets affordable and ensure ecological materials are used.
- Giving importance to the spirit of the alternative space.
- To video document the process of transforming the urban space and record the way in which it is used after transformation.
- Documentation of how the alternative space has been transformed and has activated community gatherings and interactions. Each stage and the logic behind the design process should be recorded.

PROGRAMME: REAL-LIFE CONSTRUCTION.

- The design proposal and final built intervention needs to reflect a sustainable solution. It needs to become a versatile platform with no bounds for culture, generation, etc.
- The process should also be presented with illustrations.
- Highlight your experimentations with the design through documentation.
- Get hands on and make your designs for "alternative spaces" a reality.
- The student team may collaborate with a practicing architect, NGO, or Faculty or any citizen group, etc. to be their Mentor for this intervention.

THE SITE:

- The site should be real and easily accessible.
- It should connect with the neighborhood and should not pose threat to any form of living being.
- The site should be a concise area but connect to a larger community.
