Brief about the Program (Activity/Event)	Every year the institute takes up student activities reflecting the institute philosophy viz. 'Learning by doing' and 'Co-existence with nature'. Ganpati model making workshop using eco-friendly material is one of such activities. Ganpati utsav is the festival which is celebrated with great enthusiasm in Nashik, but the idol worshiped at this occasion is mostly made up of plaster of paris. Many people are unaware of the danger it poses to our environment. Considering this fact the said workshop is conducted in the institute. Students explore their skills in making Ganesh idols under expert guidance at the same time paying their respect to nature. This activity greatly helps to bring awareness in students for reduced use of non-ecofriendly material. Students of first to fourth year actively participate in the workshop under the guidance of Prof. Datrange and Prof. Sankalp Bagul, accompanied by college faculties. The workshop ended with the variety of idols which were worshiped by everyone for next 5 days.
Remarks	Satisfactory.

Brief about the Program (Activity/Event)	Every year MVPS's College of Architecture takes up student activities reflecting the institute philosophy viz. 'Learning by doing' and 'Co-existence with nature'. Ganpati model making workshop using eco-friendly material is one of such activities. Ganpati utsav is the festival which is celebrated with great enthusiasm in Nashik, but the idol worshiped at this occasion is mostly made up of Plaster of Paris. Many people are unaware of the danger it poses to our environment. Considering this fact the said workshop is conducted in the institute. Students explore their skills in making Ganesh idols under expert guidance at the same time paying their respect to nature. This activity greatly helps to bring awareness in students for reduced use of non-ecofriendly material. This year students of first to fourth year actively participated in the workshop under the guidance of Prof. Datrange and Prof. Sankalp Bagul, accompanied by college faculties. The workshop ended with the variety of idols which were worshiped by everyone for next 5 days.

Brief about the Program (Activity/Event)	Every year MVPS's College of Architecture takes up student activities reflecting the institute philosophy viz. 'Learning by doing' and 'Co-existence with nature'. Ganapati model making workshop using eco-friendly material is one of such activities. Ganapati Utsav is the festival which is celebrated with great enthusiasm in Nashik, but the idol worshiped at this occasion is mostly made up of plaster of Paris. Many people are unaware of the danger it poses to our environment. Considering this fact the said workshop is conducted in the institute. Students explore their skills in making Ganesh idols under guest expertise guidance at the same time paying their respect to nature. This activity greatly helps to bring awareness in students for reduced use of non-ecofriendly material.
Remarks	Students enjoyed the workshop and made lord Ganesh idols.

Brief about the Program (Activity/Event)	Turning back the 28 pages of the year book in history dated 1st Sept 1989 was the day when first batch entered the college. To cherish this moment, every year since then this day is celebrated as the college day. On this occasion the students of 2nd year B.Arch. took collaborative efforts to erect a structure that acted as a "mushroom column" covering the entire courtyard space. The structure made out of bamboo was aimed to be aesthetically appealing, useful and sustainable. Balancing the whole canopy of around 216 Sq.m on a single column support assembly was a tough task that was successfully achieved by the students unitedly with the help of Prof. Hemant Thakre and Prof. Anil Thombare. Senior faculties, Prof. Arpita Bhatt from Architecture disciplines, along with all the faculty members inaugurated the structure. Lot of enthusiasm was seen in the students through the day. The eve was celebrated with fresher's party to welcome first year batches of architecture students who actively participated in cultural performances.
Remarks	Gratitude and emotional attachment towards the institute is seen amongst the students by contributing in making of the structure.

Brief about the Program (Activity/Event)	Every year MVPS's College of Architecture takes up student activities reflecting the institute philosophy viz. 'Learning by doing' and 'Co-existence with nature'. Ganapati model making workshop using eco-friendly material is one of such activities. Ganapati Utsav is the festival which is celebrated with great enthusiasm in Nashik, but the idol worshiped at this occasion is mostly made up of plaster of Paris. Many people are unaware of the danger it poses to our environment. Considering this fact the said workshop is conducted in the institute. Students explore their skills in making Ganesh idols under expertise guidance at the same time paying their respect to nature. This activity greatly helps to bring awareness in students for reduced use of non-ecofriendly material.
